DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO DECEMBER 23.

[illegible]—Railroad Obstructions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—During the week ending December 2[illegible], the Treasury Department [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] The circulation of the National Banks was increased by the issue [illegible] four millions during the past week. The total circulation is about two hundred and fifty four millions.

In consequence of the [illegible] citizens to running the train on the railroad between Richmond and Washington [illegible] on the track and tearing up the [illegible] troops will look after the [illegible] rebels.

There is a rumor that Secretary Harlan, of the Interior Department, [illegible] resign, and that Alexander W. Randall [illegible] will succeed him.

More Fenian News.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2[illegible].—It is rumored that the Senatorial Department of the Fenians have determined on a Canadian war, and measures of compromise between the Cabinet and the Senators are now under debate.

The Staff of the Secretary of War is announced. Two of its members are graduates of West Point.

Dispatches were received by special envoy from the Head Centre Stephens yesterday, and so important were they considered by President O'Mahony that he at once ordered them to be placed before General Sweeny or those who received what is called the Senate, with a view to having their requirements complied with at once. The nature of the dispatches was not made public.

A Question in the Canadian Courts.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The American Consul at Toronto, and the Agent of the Postoffice Department have libelled $100,000 worth of United States three cent postage stamps [illegible] in the Toronto Custom House, supposed to have been captured at sea by the pirate [illegible]. The question of ownership will shortly be argued in a Canadian Court.

Miscellaneous.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Suit has been entered in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, against the Mayor and City Council, to restrain them from paying out of the corporation, the expenses of the recent election [illegible] to negro suffrage. Judge Carter made an order that respondents answer on Tuesday next and show cause why injunction should not be issued as prayed for.

A petition to Congress is in circulation to-day, for signatures in favor of negro suffrage.

The issuing of pardons has almost entirely ceased. About a dozen requisitions were made to-day for pardons within the $20,000 clause.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The Times' Richmond correspondent says: Notwithstanding the distressed condition of the [illegible] there is a generally expressed wish that our Government should become embroiled in a foreign war. This wish finds its origin with a certain class with heartiest longing for opportunity to have the disgrace now attached to them on account of rebellion removed. There are men who hold offices in the rebel army who would willingly enlist as privates under the old flag in case of war with France or England. While unwilling to acknowledge its publicity, a majority of the people of the South feel the disgrace which attaches itself to the name of rebel, and bitterly regret their folly in making for themselves that name of traitor. To free themselves from this imputation and to put themselves again on a level with their Northern brethren, they are willing to do almost anything.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The Commercial's Washington dispatch says: It is ascertained here upon apparently reliable authority that three months hence there will not be a French soldier in Mexico. The Post's Washington dispatch says: The committee on appropriations will hold several sessions during the holidays with the expectation of perfecting permanent appropriation bills. Great reduction will probably be made.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Isaac B. Yoder, Superintendent and Inspector of Navy Department, is now engaged in inaugurating a new system of navy accounts, by which it is expected to prevent any future frauds upon Government. The new system has been successfully introduced in the Navy Yards of Philadelphia and Boston.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The Herald's Washington special says circulation of National Banks has been increased by issue of four million of dollars during last week. Total circulation about two hundred and fifty four millions.

First reception at the White House is to be held next Thursday. No other will be held until reassembling of Congress.

Treasury printers propose to celebrate by individual observance this week.

The fact is that no fraud has been practiced in the printing department of the Treasury.

About a dozen others [illegible] of the signal corps.

From the Rio Grande.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Advices from the Rio Grande represent affairs growing more mixed.

Additional correspondence has passed between General Weitzel and Mejia, the Imperial Commander at Matamoras. Weitzel alleges that Mejia has, on mere supposition, imprisoned innocent American citizens, and informs him, by direction of General Sheridan, that if such outrages are repeated, no personal apologies will be accepted, and strongly intimates that he will be authorized to settle matters by force of arms. General Mejia's complaint is the old one, of aid and comfort given to Mexican Republicans by Weitzel's troops. Weitzel says he is ordered to say that hereafter when any garrison under Mejia's command is in a state of siege no supplies of any kind will be permitted to pass to such garrison from this side. Gen. Sheridan considers it a violation of neutrality against the legitimate authorities of Mexico, to send powder to such persons, and that he, Weitzel, is ordered to stop all intercourse with any garrison during the progress of a siege, except that which humanity shall dictate.

The Herald's Brownsville letter says: Forced [illegible] of money and other property are constantly being collected by the Imperial soldiers at the point of the bayonet, and citizens who [illegible] such treatment incur death or imprisonment. The correspondent further says: The probability of active interference by the United States, in affairs of Mexico, is the only thing thought of in Brownsville, and the impression is very strong that they will be delayed but a short time. Certainly the tone of the authorities is such as would warrant the conclusion that no great pains will be taken [illegible] a rupture.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. [illegible].—City of Mexico letters to Nov. 30th, say: The Emperor has extended the period of his amnesty. The World's correspondent says Gen. Diaz is [illegible] the whole State of [illegible] against the imperialists. The liberals are masters of the whole coast between Vera Cruz and Tuxpan, and also south of Vera Cruz. The Austrians have met with several disasters. Marshal Bazaine writes to Gen. Mejia that the northern [illegible] is under [illegible] protection, that of the [illegible] and the Emperor of the French. [illegible] Brownsville correspondent says: The Austrian reinforcements amount to [illegible] men. They are anxious to desert [illegible] commanded the [illegible] American [illegible] by Mejia and [illegible] unsuccessful. There is no doubt that [illegible] citizens were forced into the imperial [illegible] the siege.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A letter from Brownsville mentions the return [illegible] Americans who have been exploring the Mexican States of Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon and [illegible] [illegible] Monterey, [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] Juarez Government.

The French troops left Monterey about November 1st [illegible] on November 6th. [illegible] hundred native troops were left in the city. The French commandant gives as a reason for the withdrawal of the troops the unhealthiness of the place. There was a lack of [illegible] supplies in Monterey which would be necessary for the sustenance of the [illegible] they removed to Saltillo. It is reported [illegible] that the French administration of affairs about Monterey had been very tyrannical, and the people everywhere were more dissatisfied with the Empire than they had previously been with the Republic. Many complaints were made of outrages committed on citizens by French [illegible], particularly upon Americans and other foreigners.

Gossip from Washington.

NEW YORK, Dec. [illegible].—The dispatches from Washington say the President [illegible] at levee on New Years' day, but it is scarcely [illegible] public reception can take place before [illegible] of January in consequence of refitting the White House.

There is no truth in the report that southern members elect had resolved to go home. They will remain there until after the 4th of March next, and most of those southern Congressmen have gone home to spend the holidays, intending to return in January to prosecute their claims for seats in Congress. The opinion is gaining ground that the credentials of claimants for seats from the Southern States shall be referred to the Committee on Persons, and thus be disposed of.

The pressure upon the heads of departments for clerkships, has increased enormously. Most of the Senators and Representatives have full a dozen special cases for favorable consideration. There are no vacancies to be filled in the Departments. On the contrary, nearly 200 clerks have been discharged in various bureaus within ten days past, because their services are no longer required.

All leading Committees are broken up by the absence of members.

FORTRESS MONROE, Dec. 26.—The main portion of the old frigate Merrimac, has been raised by [illegible] Underdown & Co., and taken to Portsmouth Navy Yard.

OUR DUTY TO MEXICO.—It seems very much as if the much vexed country of Mexico will settle its own affairs provided we do not attempt to settle them for it. The Empire of Mexico is one of those political adventures in which the only chance of success is the mistakes of its opponents. We regard it very much as we regarded the partition of Poland, the dismemberment of Cracow, the cession of Schleswig Holstein. We happen to be near neighbors, and, therefore, our opinions are more earnest and impressive, just as they would be if a robber entered an adjoining mansion, and not one in another part of the town. Without introducing the Monroe doctrine, or applying the opinions of a Secretary of State of a past generation to events of the present day, we may suggest that, as America regarded the occupation of Mexico as a menace to the United States, made in our day of weakness, when we were crippled by a formidable rebellion, we are no friends of that movement. We do not discuss the origin of the French occupation; the contract with England and Spain; the violation of that contract; the stern war; the introduction of Austrian and Belgian mercenaries; the attempt to colonize from the Southern States, the intrigues with Texas; the brutal decrees of retaliation and extermination, which presume upon the weakness of imperial power to make their war assassination. These are matters for Mexico to decide. We look on; but it would not vex us greatly to see the republican leader triumph, and the adventurous Maximilian return to his Austrian palace.

While this may be our wish we can do nothing more. The very way for us to help Maximilian is to oppose him. We must remember that the whole Mexican business is unpopular in France; that the financiers do not care to spend money on fancy expeditions, and that it will not do to raise loans to keep an Austrian Duke on a stolen throne. What has France gained by this? No territory, no money, no fame. Those who know anything of the Bonaparte conscience, may feel assured that a Bonaparte will do nothing without some recompense, and that only so far as Mexico strengthens the throne will Mexico be cherished. With the meddlesomeness of the much-contriving Emperor, we find him, as we say in America, with his hands full. He has more irons in his fire than his anvil will bear. Rome is a problem; Cochin-China claims his attention; Algeria is about to rise in rebellion; Japan is not properly under discipline; the Rhine border must be thought of; there is an unsettled account with Poland. Mexico is now the great embarrassment, for Maximilian wants money, jewels must be purchased, and an army must be fed. We know not what that costs, and, as Napoleon has assumed the bills, France is restive.

If America interfered by giving Logan the 20,000 men rumor represents him as soliciting, she would do what Napoleon wishes. France is never niggardly when her honor is concerned. She does not care a sou about the honor of Maximilian or of all the Dutch Dukes that ever crossed the sea. They may rise or fall, wear crowns of thorns or diamonds, sleep on Montezuma's bed of down or his "bed of roses." Paris will go her ways and make jolly fun of Dutch Dukes generally. But when French honor is involved, then the last man and the last franc and the last bayonet! If the United States were to fire a shot at the French flag, we should have a war with France, and, most probably, a war with England—for the alliance that assailed Russia is still intact. It is not for us to speculate upon the results of such a war. We do not court it. We shall do everything to avoid it. We shall most certainly not cross the Rio Grande to precipitate it. However, that war might end, we do not see that it would help Juarez. We have a conquered but not a pacified South—a South which would be as likely to aid a foreign army of invasion as assail it. If we stand apart and allow France and Mexico to fight it out—Juarez as the upper and the French financiers as the nether millstone—Maximilian's power will in time be ground to powder. But, no fighting, gentlemen! There is no use in tumbling ourselves over in a vain attempt to help Juarez, when Juarez is taking care of himself.—N. Y. Tribune, Nov. 22d.

"DEMOCRACY."—The New York Tribune, in the following paragraph, tells what modern "Democracy" is, and what it has done. The summing up is complete. Here is the record; it does not need another word:

The rebellion was Democratic. It broke out in Democratic States. It was confined to Democratic States. It was hatched by Southern Democrats. It was fostered by Northern Democrats. Democrats officered the rebel army. Democrats made up its rank and file. Democrats filled every office in the Confederate Government, from the Presidency down to the clerkships and the messengerships. There wasn't a Republican with a shoulder strap, or a musket, or a "place," in the whole devilish concern. In the Democratic city of Washington, under the Democratic administration of Buchanan, the rebellion was conspired and prepared. A Democratic member of that Democratic Administration stripped the North of arms, and smuggled them over to the South, and sent the army where it would be unavailable, or could easily be captured. A Democratic member of that same Democratic Administration scattered the navy over the world, so that it could not be [illegible] on the rebel seaboard. A Democratic Secretary of the Treasury plundered his trust to supply the rebellion with money. A Democratic President, entreated to do something to save the nation, refused, declaring and arguing that the Government could not constitutionally defend itself, and that it was unlawful to coerce rebels, and he sat [illegible] down, like the Democrat and traitor that he was, and allowed the nation's arsenals to be plundered, and the nation's ships, navy yards and fortresses to be seized, and the rebel army to be organized, without lifting a finger to oppose it. [illegible] Democrats [illegible] Northern and Western [illegible] to applaud the conduct of their Democratic President, [illegible] and defended his Democratic [illegible] that the Government had [illegible] to suppress a rebellion, from the word [illegible] political [illegible] opposed every legislative, financial, military, and moral measure taken to speedily and successfully prosecute the war and save the nation's life. [illegible] Democrats [illegible] all and every one of them, without [illegible] exception.

An English paper states that at the funeral of [illegible] at Westminster [illegible] the officiating Dean pronounced the words, "Dust to dust, ashes to ashes," over the grave, [illegible] the [illegible] sprinkling [illegible] earth [illegible] into the grave [illegible] appeared that the [illegible] solemnity of the grave suffered when the [illegible] "Ashes to ashes, dust to dust," were [illegible] by the symbolic [illegible] of earth on the coffin, and the [illegible] is [illegible] by casting [illegible] into the grave.

In five years the population of Massachusetts has increased 56,000.

James Buchanan--His Book

There is a report that James Buchanan is still living at his residence in a small Pennsylvania town, and that in order to vindicate his name he has written a book designed to show that loyal men—not such traitors as he—were the authors of the rebellion. The views he takes are made manifest by a single paragraph from the preface. It is as follows:

"The narrative will prove that the original and conspiring cause of all our future troubles are to be found in the long active and persistent hostility of the Northern Abolitionists both in and out of Congress, against Southern slavery until the final triumph of their cause in the election of President Lincoln, and, on the other hand the corresponding antagonism and violence with which the advocates of slavery resisted these efforts and vindicated its preservation and extension up to the period of secession. So excited were the parties, that had they intended to furnish material to inflame the passions of the one against the other, they could not have more effectually succeeded than they did by their mutal criminations and recriminations."

No one, after reading the foregoing paragraph, will have the slightest disposition to question its authorship. But one man in America could write just like this, and every intelligent person knows that that man is the eminent "J B" How accurately these his latest utterances remind us of the messages he sent to Congress in the days when the "chivalry" were using him as their willing and pliant instrument!

In his message of December 3d, 1860, he said

"The long-continued and intemperate interference of the Northern people with the question of slavery has at length produced its natural effects. Sooner or later the bonds of such a Union must be [illegible]."

And, again, in another part of his message, speaking of Northern legislation, he said

"In that event, the injured States, after having first used all peaceful and constitutional means to obtain redress, would be justified in revolutionary resistance to the Government of the Union."

It would be absurd to suppose that the author of these sentiments had yet been converted to the doctrines of truth and loyalty. "J B's" book is likely to be nothing more than a repetition of the [illegible] of his old messages. The people will not be very anxious, though they may be somewhat curious to possess this new edition of the works of the modern Machiavelli.

About the Fenians.

If it had been seriously intended by the Fenians to make an effort to achieve the independence of Ireland, unanimity among their members, and a perfect concert of action among all who entered into the plans of their party, would, we might think, be as indispensable as desirable. [illegible] the first we have had the strange spectacle of a party making an effort to free their country, while themselves remaining in another land thousands of miles away, with an ocean to intervene; and now we find these same persons, as if forgetting their traditional hostility to the British crown, thoroughly inharmonious among themselves, and [illegible] apparently almost ready to settle their domestic and fraternal difficulties "with sticks"—as argument, in the true Hibernian way. The President of this new "Government" is at cross purposes with the Senate; the Secretary of War is at variance with the rest of the Cabinet; the Secretary of the Treasury has been impeached for a violation of his trust; while the great body of the brotherhood is divided by the quarrels of their chiefs—a part taking up the cause of the President, and the remainder going against him. To cap all, Stephens, the head of the movement in Ireland, writes a letter to the effect that the Fenian "Government" in America has been a "stumbling-block" in the way of the whole enterprise. The news of every day, brings us some new account of the dissensions of the order, and we find a [illegible] that which was to inaugurate a formidable rebellion, now rebelling against itself.

It looks as if the Fenian cause in America had met with the misfortune of falling into bad hands. The great body of those who compose the organization are undoubtedly men of true honesty and of good purpose. Their devotion to their native land is most praiseworthy. Were their efforts properly directed, and were themselves guided aright, they might be able to accomplish something for a cause which we are not permitted to doubt, they have very nearly at heart.

But it is impossible for them now to accomplish their design of obtaining national independence for Ireland. They might at first, by a succession of quick, unexpected and sturdy blows, have possessed themselves of the island; but they cannot now. England is on the alert, and the force she has there is too strong to be overcome by any preparations that can be concerted in secret against her. She deals in the most summary and severe manner with all active and suspected parties, and no demonstration can be made that will not instantly be quelled. The intended revolution has been suppressed in Ireland, and Fenianism will hardly be able to accomplish its object by making America the sole theater of its operations.

MEETING OF THE UNION STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—We publish to-day a call for the Union State Central Committee to meet at Salem on Thursday, the 15th of February. The following is a list of the members of the Committee. It is particularly desirable that all should attend. I. R. Moores, of Marion, Chairman, John H. Stevens, of Baker, D. R. Biddle, of Benton. B. D. Stevens, of Columbia, J. D. Locey, of Clackamas, Cyrus Olney, of Clatsop, H. L. Blake of Curry, Henry Wykoff, of Coos, James Cole of Douglas, C. F. Russell, of Jackson, S. R. Scott, of Josephine, J. B. Underwood, of Lane. Wm Miller, of Linn, J. H. Mitchell of Multnomah, B. F. Whitson, of Polk, John Stripp of Tillamook, T. H. McCoy, of Umatilla, Wm Logan of Wasco, T. R. Cornelius, of Washington and A. G. Cook, of Yamhill.

There are some vacancies in the above list which ought to be filled. We hope the Union men of the counties in which the vacancies exist will supply the places of the former members by appointing others. Let us begin the coming campaign in earnest, and carry it through triumphantly.

TAXING THE MINES.—The Statesman quotes a sentence or two from an article we published last summer, and tries to make out therefrom that we are in favor of taxing mining claims. We stated distinctly that while the Government has the unquestioned right to tax the mineral lands it would be bad policy to do it. Because we said the Government possesses this right the Statesman insists that we want the mines to be taxed. We stated explicitly that the proper way would be to tax the metals after they were mined. We are afraid the Statesman is too dull to comprehend any distinction that can possibly be made.

The Union majority in Pennsylvania last October was 21, 016. In 1862 the "Democrats" had a majority of 3,524. Lincoln's majority on home vote (1864) was 5,712. From the above figures it does not appear that the boasted gains of the "Democracy" are of a kind to assist that party materially, in its struggle for office and power.

[ESPECIALLY TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO DECEMBER 30.

Defense of General Baker

WASHINGTON Nov 22d — To-day's Daily Chronicle contains an article in defense of General L C Baker Chief Detective of the War Department saying

Notwithstanding the terrible outcry against him he still has the confidence of the Department to which he is attached. Adding General Baker [illegible] in all instances to report his acts [illegible] War Department which [illegible] all the facts than any of General Baker's traducers. He has not yet found occasion to censure him for any of those things which have been so [illegible] by a portion of the press.

The Chronicle also says General Baker has not committed a single person to the Old Capitol Prison in more than two years and that he has not been authorized to do so since the latter part of 1864.

Fire at Portsmouth N H

PORTSMOUTH N H Dec 24 The principal hotel with the [illegible] at this place was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday night.

The "Pardon Market" Dull.

WASHINGTON Dec 25 One hundred and fifty applications for pardons were received to-day from citizens of Alabama. Among them are Ivers [illegible] United States Senator. Few pardons are now being granted. Nearly all are to Texans. There are several thousand applications on file.

Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON Dec 26 —All the members of the Cabinet were present at a meeting to-day. Secretary McCulloch having returned from his visit to the North.

Important Decision.

WILMINGTON N C Dec 24 —In the case of Walter Murray a colored man sentenced by the county court of this place to be sold into servitude for stealing. Maj General Cook overruled the sentence on the ground that no laws could be enforced which makes a distinction between blacks and whites. The statutes which provide for the selling of free negroes into servitude may not be enforced. The alarm about the rising of the negroes in the neighborhood is subsiding.

Quiet in Virginia

RICHMOND Dec 26 —Christmas was observed by all classes in this city with the usual festivities. No demonstration of mob violence occurred during the day except at Manchester, opposite Richmond where a number of persons surrounded the jail and forced the officers to release several colored prisoners. All other official reports from all sections of the State represent the freedmen as quiet and orderly. No apprehensions of any disturbance among them exists among the officers of the bureau.

Recognition of Rebel Governors

WASHINGTON, Dec 26 —The President, through the Secretary of State has relieved Judge Sharky of his duty as Provisional Governor, recognizing as his successor Governor Humphreys. The President sent letters to them both similar to those addressed to other Provisional Governors of the Southern States, recommending them to submit to the constitutional authorities chosen by the people and hoping that they will conduct the affairs of the State so as to insure peace and harmony among all classes. Texas and Florida are the only States that now have Provisional Governors.

The Cattle Plague in England.

WASHINGTON Dec 26 —The United States Consul of Manchester England, under date of December 9th, informs the State Department that since the last dispatch the cattle plague had extended and the number of death were rapidly increasing.

The Presidency in Mexico.

NEW YORK Dec 25 —The Constitutional term for holding the Presidency of Mexico by Juarez, expired by limitation, on the 13th of November last, and there seems to be some doubts among the Mexicans whether he could continue in office until another election could be held in conformation with the exigencies of the country. Some think that he should relinquish the Presidency into the hands of General Ortega, the Vice President. All true Mexicans, however, are unanimously in the opinion the President should retain the office till an election can be held. General Ortega deemed it his duty to be at the capital of the Republic at the expiration of the constitutional term, with the design of taking charge of public affairs should President Juarez deem it proper to relinquish. Rumors detrimental to the Liberal cause are being industriously circulated. The friends of Mexico in this city deny that President Juarez and General Ortega have quarreled. The latter has always expressed himself as willing to adhere sedulously to the administration of the former, and to continue as hitherto to uphold, in the field and in the Cabinet, the independence and integrity of the Republic.

Receipts from the internal revenue for the week ending December 23d, amounted to $5,000,000, making a total since January last of nearly $170,000,000.

Riot at Alexandria, Va.

WASHINGTON, Dec 26 —The Evening Star has information of a riot at Alexandria Va yesterday. It says it was commenced by a party of negroes who were going about the city with a drum. These negroes broke in the door of a man named Wilkins, who fired on them, killing one and wounding another. The disturbance extended to other portions of the place. Until late at night, shooting was going on in every section. Four white men are reported killed and a number wounded.

WILMINGTON, N C, Dec 26 —The negroes made an organized demonstration in the vicinity on Christmas morning. The negroes charged with creating a disturbance were arrested by the police, and a crowd of negroes attempted to rescue them when two companies of recruits and a detachment of recruits and regulars from the garrison came to the assistance of the police. About 100 negroes were arrested, but they have not yet been disposed of. There was no other disturbance of any consequence.

The Congressional Oath

NEW YORK Dec 27 —The special of the Times says that Secretary Stanton in reply to the Senate resolution states that no one has been employed by the War Department who has not taken the oath prescribed by Congress, except those who were appointed Provisional Governors of the States who received compensation from the contingent fund of the War Department as follows: Andrew Johnson of Tennessee $3,000 per annum. Holden of North Carolina $1,700, J F Perry, of South Carolina $750, Lewis L Parsons, of Georgia $1 000, James Johnson of Georgia, $1,000. Dr Francis Leiber, of the Bureau of rebel archives is the only office filled, not authorized by law. It was the expectation that the obvious necessity of the office would be recognized by Congress.

The Quarrel Among the Fenians.

NEW YORK Dec 27 —Considerable excitement has been created in this city in consequence of the publication by the senatorial party of Fenians of certain documents relating to dissensions among Fenians. A letter from James Stephens written at Dublin, has been obtained in which Stephens denominates O Mahoney the stumbling block of the organization. A powerful movement is in progress to effect a compromise between the contending parties. The rank and file are beginning to make urgent demands for the retirement of O'Mahoney and the senate.

Groundless Rumors of Juarez's Resignation.

The Herald's Vera Cruz correspondent in a letter dated the 13th inst, says that the old [illegible] rumor that Juarez has resigned the Presidency of the Mexican Republic is being again circulated. The story is a canard intended as in previous cases to injuriously affect the Mexican Republic. [illegible] Just before the sailing of every French steamer from the port some rumor is invariably circulated to bolster up Maximilian and lower Juarez and the Republican cause in the minds of the public in Europe.

Fire at Shaffer, Pa.

PHILADELPHIA Dec 26 A fire occurred yesterday at Shaffer from which was destroyed nearly half the town, including ten stores four hotels and a number of private houses. The loss is not yet ascertained.

The Post's Washington correspondent says It is rumored that Secretary Harlan will soon resign the office of Secretary of the Interior and will be succeeded by the Hon Mr Dodd [illegible].

The appropriation committee of the House intend to report a bill providing for the assumption of the war debts of the loyal citizens by the General Government.

Shipwreck at Nantucket

BOSTON Dec 28 —The Hamburg ship Yout's Hart from New York to Hamburg came ashore at Nantucket on Sunday night and went to pieces. One man came ashore alive but died from exposure after walking half a mile along the sand beach.

The "Negro Insurrection" Story.

FORT MONROE, Dec 26 —In some localities and districts considerable excitement prevailed last night owing to an unfounded rumor that the blacks were getting up an insurrectionary movement against whites. The story probably arose from the blacks celebrating Christmas as is their custom by a display of fireworks and discharging firearms. No act of violence on the part of the negroes is reported except in Norfolk where it is said, a negro attacked a policeman with a club. The officer in self defense shot the negro.

Compromise Among the Fenians

NEW YORK, Dec 26 —The movement for effecting a compromise of the quarrel among the Fenians embraces the following objects. First, an immediate movement for the independence of Ireland. Second, The delivery of the funds of the Brotherhood to a committee of prominent solvent friends of the cause to be mutually agreed upon. The said committee to at once apply such money as may be placed in their hands on the [illegible] of war to effect the redemption of Ireland. It is thought that this plan will test the sincerity of both divisions of the order.

It is announced that the Erie R R Company has just completed negotiations in England for the loan of six and a half millions of dollars for the completion of its double track.

At the meeting of the New England Society, Dr Bellows, of the Sanitary Commission, stated that ninety per cent of the soldiers engaged in the late war were Americans.

A letter from Montreal says that at the next session of the Canadian Parliament Mr Brown will urge the Government to purchase the North western Territory at the expense of two million dollars. It is not thought the project will be successful.

British Troops Coming to Canada

NEW YORK Dec 26 —A battalion of the 60th Rifles are at present on their way from England to Canada, and more British troops are expected. A force of several hundred men are to be stationed at Ottowa, in consequence of there being some alarm felt for the safety of the Parliament buildings.

On Saturday last the white people around Richmond, Va, came flocking into the city under the fear of a negro insurrection on Christmas day.

Proposed Canal Around Niagara Falls

BOSTON, Dec 26 —At a meeting of the Board of Trade held for the purpose of examining plans for constructing the proposed canal around Niagara Falls, resolutions were adopted favoring the use of inclined planes instead of locks.

More Shipwrecks.

BOSTON Dec 26 —The Schooner Holmes of Boston Capt Eltrop, from Hayti, with a cargo of logwood went ashore during a gale on Friday night on the south side of Nantucket. All hands perished.

BOSTON, Dec 25.—The Isaac Velton from Bombay, while at anchor in harbor got aground on flats and keeled over, and may be badly strained.

General News.

NEW YORK Dec. 30 —The Post's special dispatch, says a strong military force has been sent by General Augur to Alexandria to prevent any outbreak on New Year's day.

A communication was handed to the Board of Aldermen this morning from A B Bradford, late Public Administrator, stating that his annual report for 1865, would show a deficit of $40,000 in that office. Considering this amount had been improperly used by him while holding office, and lost in Stock speculations in Wall Street he says he has assigned all his effects to his mother with the property of his wife to a trustee, to pay first, his bondsmen, and then to go paid to the city toward liquidation of deficiency over the bonds.

NEW YORK, Dec 30 —John B Haskin to whom Judge Barnard referred the claim of Charles Devlin against the city for $108,000 with interest from the 1st of November 1865, for work alleged to have been done on streets in the city, made report in favor of the city.

STATE CLAIMS.—The following statement shows the amount advanced the Government by Ohio and Illinois in 1861, to arm, equip and subsist, and transport troops to aid in suppressing the rebellion as well as the amount allowed and repaid these States. Illinois total amount expended $3 601 449 39; allowed, $3 719,096 73, balance suspended and disallowed $82,34[illegible], 16. Ohio amount expended, $2 245 005 51 allowed $1 846,321 11 balance suspended and disallowed, $396,7[illegible]2 71. Illinois advanced out of its treasury for this purpose $300 000 more than any other State in the Union.—Eastern paper.

Claims of the above character, due to several of the States, have recently been allowed and paid by the General Government. They are altogether a different thing from the bounty claims of some of the States, which the Government is asked to assume. Whatever sums any State expended in arming supplying and subsisting troops, ought to be refunded by the national Government. A moment's reflection, however will show the injustice of applying the same rule in the matter of paying State bounties. The several States having been called on for troops, some furnished them readily without paying any bounties, while others unable to enlist the required number of men without the additional inducement of a bounty, and anxious to avoid a draft offered large sums to their citizens to enlist, and even went into other States and hired recruits to fill up their quota. Massachusetts expended $10,000,000 in this manner, and some of the other States nearly as much. The injustice then, is apparent, of asking the States whose citizens did their full share of the fighting to pay the bounties of other States which instead of sending men into the field at once as their neighbors had done, expended millions of money in trying to escape the labors and dangers and hardships of the war. Considering that Massachusetts owes so large a sum for bounties, we are not surprised to find her members asking Congress to assume the debt. But in the motive that prompts such a request we see a real instance of what one of our papers forcibly calls "selfishness gone to seed." It is nothing but selfishness of the most shameless kind.

GEORGE P MARSH ON THE NEW CONSTITUTION OF MISSOURI —George P Marsh of Vermont, United States Minister to Italy one of the ripest scholars and ablest statesmen of this country, writing to a friend in St Louis in regard to the new Constitution of that State, uses the following language:

Your new Constitution is, I think on the whole, the most advanced piece of democratic real democracy that is—that we have yet had among our organic laws. I do not quite like the compelling preachers to take the oath. But the clause forbidding gifts, etc, to ecclesiastical corporations delighted me exceedingly. It is a long step in the right direction. The wealth of the church is the poverty of the commonwealth and there are few greater curses to a community than a rich and powerful clergy. It was a great stroke to exclude traitors from the ballot box. I wish all the States would do the like and I hope you will be able to keep what you have got on this point.

[illegible] Ball.—The first annual ball [illegible] was given, at [illegible]. Three hundred p[illegible] [illegible] that that [illegible] with such [illegible], an account of the [illegible] from every [illegible] any manner upon [illegible]. The hall was [illegible], with festoons, military [illegible] and flag [illegible] emblematic of the [illegible] when [illegible] from the thraldom of British [illegible] of Robert Emmett, [illegible] Washington [illegible] Lincoln, and various others were [illegible] coat of arms on the [illegible] pended, covering the entire ceiling, the [illegible] emblematic of the thirty five States. On every hand one was [illegible] memorable year 1866 had been [illegible] a final suppression of the most unhappy [illegible] of the future [illegible] sons of Ireland were about to [illegible] war, in a struggle for their national [illegible] commenced at nine o'clock. When [illegible] from twelve to fifteen sets were dan[cing] [illegible] and it was a most pleasant [illegible] gentlemen. The music dispensed was of [illegible] by our Mechanics' Band and not the [illegible] intervened to mar the pleasure and [illegible] evening. At 12 o'clock supper was [illegible] but a portion of the large assembly were able [illegible] at the first table. In this [illegible] and the ladies first took seats. The [illegible] no doubt did the very best they [illegible] the circumstances but they [illegible] the ladies was finished that they could have [illegible] to have let couples go into the [illegible] the tables were occupied, and the bal[l] [illegible] went on with the dance. There is [illegible] necessity for a large hall to an[swer] [illegible] of such occasions in this city. At the [illegible] Capt. McCormick, of the Fenian Guards [illegible] Capt. Mills' company the Washington [illegible] led by Lieut. Young, and the [illegible] by Capt. Williams. Col. J. H. Mitchell [illegible] also presided at the right of the [illegible] and members of the press were there [illegible]. The supper was evidence of [illegible] more respects than one. All that heart [illegible] on those tables, and it was prepar[ed] [illegible] manner by Messrs. Hermann & [illegible] were beautifully prepared, and each [illegible] motto. The names of Robert Emmett, [illegible] others, were written on the orna[mental] [illegible] devices as "no more oppression" [illegible], etc., stood out before the [illegible] in bold letters. There was an [illegible], and the character of the dishes [illegible] post. After the cloth was re[moved] [illegible] were the order. Col. Mitch[ell] [illegible] well-timed and spirited speech, in [illegible] the cause of Irish independence. He [illegible], and the sitting closed with a song [illegible] by Mr. Lumsden, handsomely [illegible], which was entitled, "The Fenian [illegible] was presented to Capt. McCormick [illegible] and was joyous until near the dawn [illegible] the events will long be remembered by [illegible] it was to be present.

[illegible]. On Monday numerous of our citi[zens] [illegible] house," and many were the calls from [illegible] to pay their respects to friends and [illegible], receiving and exchanging the [illegible] to the advent of 1866. This [illegible] in this country with New York city [illegible] to the settlement of the town by [illegible] which has always been imitated with [illegible] in all parts of the civilized world [illegible] been carried out more successfully than was the case in Portland last [illegible] we are, so remote from the "shed [illegible] the most distant portion of the north[illegible] Americans in America" would be [illegible] order which pervades our society [illegible]. Wine flowed freely, coffee and tea, [illegible] were abundant, and at a few [illegible] were entertained. The [illegible] certain tablets went into the two [illegible] observation discovered nothing to [illegible] making these calls the slightest [illegible] from a modest and moral community [illegible] when they set Oregonians down for [illegible] know that there is a greater amount [illegible] any would suppose, upon taking [illegible] our outside appearance. But one [illegible] to prove that any Portlander had [illegible] other than coffee—he said when [illegible] he found four napkins in his [illegible] be accounted for in no other man[ner] [illegible] of mind, as he is known to be [illegible] such articles to his own [illegible] the day was happily spent, and may we [illegible] associations formed, by this system of [illegible] in our city on Monday, may be of ma[ny] [illegible]

[illegible] Improvement.—Sometime since, it [illegible] the committee on streets and public [illegible] to postpone the letting of the [illegible] improvement on First street, believ[ing] [illegible] property holders had a preference for the [illegible]. Had the property holders petition[ed] [illegible], the Council were disposed to [illegible] the McAdamizing [illegible] not to be [illegible] for a business street, nor [illegible] good as the Nicolson pavement. But no [illegible] has been presented, and the committee now [illegible] the letting of the McAdam contract. We [illegible] the property holders will interest themselves [illegible] the subject, they will prefer the Nic[olson] [illegible] to any other kind of street, and find that [illegible], it can be laid down twenty-five [illegible] than that on Front street, and with the [illegible] of repairs, will be the most eco[nomical] [illegible] makes a good road, but it is cer[tainly] [illegible] for a street in which the basis [illegible] of a [illegible]. There appears to be less ex[illegible] the Nicolson pavement than many sup[pose] [illegible] to its introduction here, and [illegible] nothing in the world so elegant for the [illegible] inclined to believe that the people of [illegible] will but consult their own interest, [illegible] and we know it to [illegible] a portion of the Council, that they [illegible] the ordinance to be amended, or re[illegible] allow the laying down of the Nicolson [illegible] street. A petition from the required [illegible] at the meeting of the board on [illegible] the only suit that will save the expense [illegible] street pavement.

[illegible] Sully.—We notice that an Ore[gon] [illegible] of an Ohio paper has fallen into one of [illegible] Eastern people, but of which [illegible] the least troubled, that of [illegible] localities. To show the ig[norance] [illegible] on this question we quote [illegible] December 14th, 1865: "A detach[ment] [illegible] has arrived at Powder [illegible] from Grand Ronde valley, and at [illegible] making preparations to erect forti[fications] [illegible], which will afford [illegible] region of mining country that [illegible] at fearful risk [illegible] protection is only necessary to [illegible] wide extended mining localities [illegible] in the world." That the Indi[illegible] about Powder river have been [illegible] that the protection is only neces[sary] [illegible] localities the richest in the world, is [illegible] protection is asked for, [illegible] that we have Gen. Sully here, [illegible] say so? The Powder river [illegible] erected his fortifications is a little [illegible] from Grand Ronde valley. It is [illegible] side of the Rocky mountains, between [illegible] and the Missouri river, and is in [illegible] campaign.

[illegible].—The theatre was well attended [illegible] to witness the drama entitled, "Iron [illegible] "Charles the Twelfth," the new com[edy] [illegible] and other attractions. Mrs. [illegible] of the Green," which brought [illegible] was the subject of much comment in [illegible] manner of this talented and pleas[ing] [illegible]. Last evening the entertainment began with [illegible] followed by the "Iron King," etc. [illegible] This evening has been set apart as [illegible] and by particular request "The [illegible] and the comedy of the "Actress by Day [illegible]. During the evening Mrs. [illegible] "Sheridan's ride" and there will be a [illegible] Mrs. Phelps and Mrs. McDonald will ap[pear] [illegible] there will be a full house to this occa[sion] [illegible] is certainly entitled to a rousing [illegible] in the characters selected for the [illegible] fail to producing desirable effects.

[illegible] market wagon was left by its driver on [illegible] street, while he delivered a package [illegible]. When he returned to the street [illegible] were seen turning down Stark [illegible] running on the two starboard wheels [illegible] down Stark street the horse took up [illegible] the crossing of Washington the box of [illegible] with its contents were left on the [illegible] horse went on. By running [illegible] a halt on Columbia street, but not [illegible] a wreck of matter not worth picking up [illegible] axle-trees, etc. The cause of the [illegible] was that a drove of fat cattle were [illegible] the place he was standing, and the [illegible] and speeches of the [illegible] fright[ened] [illegible]. Hitch your horses and save trouble.

[illegible] Court.—Deady, J. Tuesday, Jan. 2d. [illegible] School District No. 1, et al. was [illegible] hearing until the 2d Monday in February. [illegible] case, —— vs. Nauble, judgment [illegible] answer for $4,200. Dodge vs. [illegible] Tracy vs Kessler and Bradford de[illegible] argued and submitted. This is an [illegible] from the defendants what the plaintiff [illegible] excess of tax collected of him as assayer [illegible] this morning at 10 o'clock.

[illegible].—We are in receipt of the Montana [illegible] 9th, the Idaho World of December 16th, [illegible] of Dec 9th, and the Walla Walla [illegible] 15th. "Winter reigns and it rains [illegible] whole upper country. No [illegible] left for [illegible] yesterday, but one will be dispatched to-day [illegible] Fargo & Co.'s messenger will accompa[ny] [illegible]

If the evil complained of [illegible] should at least have furnished us with [illegible] we might know to whom we were indebt[ed] [illegible] of calling our attention to the fact. [illegible] are in no wise inclined to start off on a [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. T. G. Young, having qualified and en[illegible] as Chief Engineer of the Fire De[partment] [illegible] tendered his resignation as [illegible] Engine Co. No. 3. In accepting [illegible] they gave Mr. Young a hand[some] [illegible] for his late efficient services.

The Cholera.—All the prominent medical men of New York, and other cities of the United States, it is said, are engaging themselves in the study of the cholera, [illegible] as there has been no yet [illegible], but [illegible]. A few days ago we were informed of the wonderful effects of [illegible] during cholera at the time [illegible] in Buffalo by one [illegible] high medical authority. [illegible] New York recently delivered a lecture upon the subject [illegible] in that city and he claims that [illegible] be used [illegible] as the tooth-ache [illegible]. It is [illegible]. The patient [illegible] first attacked by the [illegible] extreme lassitude. He should [illegible] and remain perfectly quiet for forty-eight hours, taking [illegible] promptly [illegible]. After this [illegible] the [illegible] action. He should [illegible] the spinal column. Dr. Post claims that [illegible] has been applied in thousands [illegible] never failed to result in the entire and rapid recovery of the patient. It is [illegible] however that the patient should [illegible] a reclining posture, from the very commencement of the disease until the recovery.

Lecture To-night.—Rev. Father Buchard, S. J., will deliver another lecture, at the Catholic Church, this evening, and as this may be the last discourse delivered by this eloquent divine previous to his departure for Victoria, we advise such of our readers as desire to hear an interesting lecture to attend this evening at seven o'clock at the Catholic Church. We understand there will be no charge for admission.

Fair Play.—Recently a horse thief from Multnomah county was arrested at Salem; yesterday a like thief from Salem was arrested here. His name is James Blackney. He hired a horse of Durbin to go a few miles, but instead of going a few went several and then sold the animal for $72 [illegible]. He confessed the crime and will possibly be taken to Marion county for trial.

Fenian Guard.—The dress parade of the Fenian Guard on Monday afternoon exhibited considerable proficiency. The company marched in a body to the Governor's residence and were well entertained and addressed by His Excellency, then returned to a festival at the What Cheer House, after which they marched to their armory and broke ranks.

Ball of the Colored People.—The first successful attempt of the colored people to get up a ball in Portland occurred on Monday evening at Cook's building on First street. There was a very good attendance, some twenty-five couple, and the participants enjoyed themselves much.

Report of the Gen. Grant.—The steamer Gen. Grant, Capt. Kerns, reports a sunken log in the channel at the mouth of the Willamette, of considerable proportions. Capt. K. ran over the log on Monday and states it to have been possibly four feet under water, lying in a position to be troublesome.

Telegraphed.—The California steamship passed the mouth of the Cowlitz river at 3 o'clock P. M. yesterday, but had not reached her wharf at the hour of our going to press.

Clean Streets.—The cleaning and sweeping process was applied to Front street, yesterday, and by night the street was quite respectable in appearance.

"The Rule of Faith."—Bishop Scott is to deliver a lecture on the above subject, at Trinity church in this city, on Friday evening next, the 5th instant.

Democratic Meeting.—A meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee of Oregon is called to meet in this city on Monday the 22d inst.

Death of Thomas Corwin.—Thomas Corwin who, as our dispatches stated, was recently struck with paralysis, died at Washington on the 19th of December. Mr. Corwin was born in Bourbon county, Kentucky, July 29, 1794. His family originally came from Hungary. During his youth he was kept at hard labor, but by his diligence and application he became a good scholar by the time he attained his majority. In 1818 he began to practice law in Ohio, and acquired a great reputation in those early days. He was elected to the Ohio Legislature in 1822, and was first sent to Congress in 1830. In 1840 he was elected Governor. In 1845 he was chosen to a seat in the United States Senate, and in the following year made his great speech on the Mexican war. Perhaps no speech ever made in the Senate produced a profounder impression in that body and throughout the country. In 1850 he became Fillmore's Secretary of the Treasury, which office he held until 1853. He was again elected to the House of Representatives in 1858. Shortly after Mr. Lincoln's election, Corwin was appointed Minister to Mexico. Of late, he has resided at Washington.

Another Indian Raid on Snake River.—The Idaho Statesman December 9th says:

The settlers on Snake river have been the recipients of another visit from Lo the poor red man. Messrs. Carty & Stanley, traders, were ranching their stock on the other side of the river, between Washoe on Boise ferry, and had thirty four head of horses run off last Sunday night. Eight men had gone in pursuit. A man by the name of Gordon was also found murdered at Willow creek, about three miles beyond the Malheur. Gordon left Boise City about a month ago, driving a horse team for McClinary. Owing to the presence of suspicious persons in that neighborhood, he was supposed to have been killed by white men—road agents. We obtained the above items from Mr. Duval, who received them in private letters, but there were no further particulars.

National Banks.—Up to the present time there have been organized sixteen hundred and five banks, of which but one has failed and three been voluntarily withdrawn. The limit under the present law has now been reached, and, judging from the present policy of the Treasury Department, it is not likely that more will be authorized. The country is calling for a contraction, rather than a further expansion of the currency.

Work or Starve.—The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle says that unless "some system of compulsory economy is adopted by which every negro in the State shall be required to render regular, uniform and supervised labor, the people must starve." Let them starve, then, say we, if they can't work for themselves. Let neither class maintain the other in pampered idleness.

Invaluable.—We believe that the Genuine Hall's Pulmonary Balsam prevents more disease than all other medicines are capable of curing by its wonderful effects in immediately breaking up common colds.

Brown's Bronchial Troches, for Pulmonary and Asthmatic Disorders have proved their efficacy by a test of many years, and have received testimonials from eminent men who have used them. Those who are suffering from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, etc., should try "The Troches," a simple remedy which is in almost every case effectual.

Never Despond.—A trial of Newell's Pulmonary Syrup will convince the most sceptical that it is unequalled by any known preparation as a remedy for Asthma, Bronchitis, Colds, Coughs, Croup, Pain in the Chest, Spitting of Blood and other affections of the Chest, which, if left to run their course, end in consumption. Use this valuable remedy and be relieved.

Notice to all Persons having Demands on the Government.

PENSIONS, BOUNTY, PRIZE-MONEY, PATENTS, Pay for Vouchers, Scrip, Back Pay, Lost Horse and Spoliation Claims obtained by the undersigned, who will attend to all other business before the Departments at Washington City.

Soldiers becoming disabled or diseased while in the service are entitled to a Pension. Those who served in any war previous to the 10th of March, 1855, are entitled to Bounty Land. Those who served in the Navy during the late war, and were legally attached to a vessel or squadron on duty, although not participating in the taking of prizes, are entitled to Prize Money. In many Indian Treaties provision is made for payment of Spoliation Claims out of Annuities. To collect the large number of such claims now owned in this country,—for the settlement of which no similar provision has been made by treaty—demand should be made at once therefor at the proper Department, and, if found just, recommendation will be made to Congress to pass an act retaining the amount thereof out of the Annuities.

The British Press on the "Shenandoah"

[From the London Post, November 30.]

Captain Waddell did not believe that the Confederacy had collapsed, and he continued to capture and destroy the unhappy whalers. One and all concurred in telling him the same story, but with the same result—he remained incredulous, and, instead of steering for a near port where he might have obtained trustworthy information, pursued his career of destruction with unabated zeal. At length, however, he met with an English vessel which confirmed the accuracy of the story so often told him before by the Yankee whalers, and the [illegible] he made on the [illegible] in the port of Liverpool, he forthwith stored his guns and ammunition in the hold of his vessel and steered for England. Such is the substance of Captain Waddell's excuse for having continued to destroy American vessels after his authority to do so had come to an end, and the important question arises whether it should be accepted as a justification of acts confessedly wrongful. Every whaling vessel destroyed by the Shenandoah after the fall of the Confederate Government was prima facie sunk by a pirate, but the presumption of piracy would be rebutted by the Captain showing that he had not been made aware of the termination of his authority. It would not, of course, be requisite that he should have notice of the extinction of his commission because, in the necessity of things, he could not receive such notice from his own Government, which would have ceased to exist, and with the Government of the enemy he could have none but hostile relations. The only question then in the case is whether the concurrent testimony of several American whalers ought not at least to have created such doubts in the mind of Captain Waddell as would have made it incumbent on him to ascertain whether their assertions were true. Piracy is an offense against the laws of nations, and the Captain and the crew of the Shenandoah are as amenable to the jurisdiction of English Courts for that offense as they would, if captured, have been to that of the American Courts. It will, therefore, be a grave question for the consideration of the English Government whether the reasons assigned for his conduct by Captain Waddell shall be accepted as a sufficient justification, or whether it will be expedient to submit that issue to the decision of a jury.

THE QUESTION OF THE SHENANDOAH DAMAGES.

[From the London News, November 7th.]

The Shenandoah has arrived in a British port and surrendered to a British officer. The Americans may be inclined to say that this is what it should be, that it was only fitting her end should be as British as her origin; but we cannot help asking how it is that this cruiser has been able to [illegible] her course without the least interruption from the navy of the United States? We have heard of her in various parts of the world, dealing destruction and scattering dismay among merchantmen, whalers and other unarmed vessels, but no war vessel of the United States appears to have molested her. Is it possible that the expectation of recovering from this country compensation for the losses resulting from her depredations has made the Government and the people of the United States less eager for her capture than they otherwise would have been? If the world generally should come to that conclusion, from observing the impunity which Captain Waddell has so long enjoyed, it would be one of the strongest practical arguments against the admission of such liability as Seward is just now endeavoring to establish against this country. It is stated that Captain Waddell has forwarded a letter to Lord Russell, the contents of which are at present unknown; but it is understood that the first intimation he received of the termination of hostilities was on the 30th of August last, from the Barracouta, when he immediately disarmed the ship, put his guns into the hold, and at once [illegible] for Liverpool.

WADDELL'S IGNORANCE PROBABLY WILLFUL.

[From the London Telegraph, November 8th.]

The penal liability of this famous cruiser and her officers and crew, is a question of facts, not of law. "Supposing that Captain Waddell really knew, or had adequate means of knowing, that the conflict had ceased there can be no doubt as to the criminal nature of his subsequent acts of hostility." If, after sufficient notice that the North and South were at peace, he attacked a single vessel, he became a pirate—his crime was beyond all dispute, piracy, pure and simple. If, however, his later captures are attributable to ignorance, real and involuntary, not stimulated or willful, his ship retained her former character and privileges as a [illegible] commissioned ship of war, and the officers and crew are not criminally responsible. The issue is one of facts. The law of nations will all allow the lapse of a reasonable period for the [illegible] of intelligence, and it is just possible that four months intervened between the final overthrow of the Confederate cause and Captain Waddell's knowledge of the fact. But it is certainly a [illegible] what difficult to believe that he had not [illegible] intimation. According to a sensible adage, which is often applied in cases of this kind, a man cannot be allowed to shut his eyes and say that he cannot see. The long interval between the conclusion of the war and the surrender of the [illegible], and the frequency of her communications with English and French ships certainly favor the [illegible] that the crew were really [illegible], or strongly suspected, that peace had been [illegible], but that, with the reckless indifference to legal consequences which is one of the most [illegible] features of the American character, they prolonged their combatant course from a [illegible] of bravado or vindictiveness.

THE HONOR AND SAFETY OF THE COUNTRY DEMAND HIS TRIAL.

[From the London Star, Nov. 8th.]

The honor of the country and the supremacy of the law alike [illegible] that the captain and crew should be put on their trial. Although we have had during the war abundant evidence of the inefficiency of the Custom's authorities at Liverpool, we can scarcely credit the story that while the surrender of the vessel was accepted the Captain and crew were allowed to escape without the instructions of the Government being taken. If this blunder has been added to the many already committed in connection with those privateers, it only imposes upon the Government the duty of more [illegible] stirring about their recapture. The Sea King sailed from London only in October 1864, after the whole country knew the efforts the Government had made to put a stop to the fitting out of the Alexandria, and after it was known to everybody that these privateers were likely to bring the nation into trouble. It will be vain to endeavor to avoid war if the Executive is not strong enough to enforce the statute. In this case the parties who fitted out the ship and enlisted the men dared the Government to do its worst. Unfortunately the limitation of actions provided for by the statute may permit the escape of the more culpable parties in London and Liverpool, who were the principals in the transaction. The trial, however, of the Captain and crew may serve as a much needed warning to the population of Liverpool, and will show to foreign nations that we have not altogether given up the idea of controlling those of our own subjects who levy war on their own account from English ports.

Loyalty of the Southern People.

A Southern correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette makes the following judicious observations on the "loyalty" of the Southern people. The justness of his views must be apparent to every one. The manner in which this observant correspondent discriminates between the "loyalty" and "patriotism" of the South, fully expresses the state of feeling which exists in that section.

In applying the term "loyalty" to the people of the late rebellious States, the distinction between that and "patriotism" must be carefully observed. Strictly speaking, the South may at this time, be called loyal. If the question whether to obey or disobey any law of the United States were to-day presented to Mississippi or Alabama there would be no discussion on it. The popular voice would be almost unanimous in favor of obedience. This would be so because the people of these States have learned to respect the majesty of the law. They have become so thoroughly imbued with the idea—new to them—that there is a great central power in this Government which will forever control its fractional parts. The fact that this change has taken place in their minds is evinced in all their private conversations. They have their endless list of grievances, their hundred and one faults to find, and their blame to mete out, but in all their talk there is not one word of threatening. I doubt whether in the two States above mentioned, there could be a corporal's guard found of men who believe that there can ever be a successful rebellion in the South. Any other mode of obtaining redress for grievances will henceforth be regarded as better than that.

That this loyalty is a simple acquiescence to that which the fortune of war has decreed no one will pretend to deny. There is, withal, too much frankness among the Southern people to allow them to lay claim to anything like patriotism. If ever they had what is called "love of country," it is very certain there is none of it left except. Indeed, among the small class who have yielded allegiance to any Government but that of the United States. But I repeat there is frankness in the South. A Southern man will receive you into his house and treat you to the best he has but you will not fail to learn, meanwhile that he believes every Yankee to be an unprincipled wretch. His wife will very likely show you a photograph album in which Jeff Davis and Wilkes Booth occupy the first place together while Abraham Lincoln and John Brown are immolated on the last page. If you hear a good word for our present President it is not on account of the position he occupies but because he is supposed to be the special friend of the South.

Yet this same man who is so bitter in his hatred of the North, who curses the defenders of the Union and [illegible] its enemies, who only honors the President of the United States because, as an individual, he believes him to entertain ideas favorable to southern interests—this man, with all [illegible] prejudices, is not to be feared in the least so far as the future of the Union is concerned. He submits without reserve to the decision of the sword. He tells you frankly that though he cannot now love the old flag, he intends to respect it, and henceforth to be a law abiding citizen. To doubt his word, his sincerity is to deny him that honor which has ever been accorded to the better class in the South. Nor is there anything strange or paradoxical in his position. He has tried disloyalty and found it to be a terrible cheat. He has learned by sad experience that there are burdens more grievous to be borne than ever the Union could impose upon any section of the country, or any of its citizens. Hence there is no reason to doubt his word when he tells you that he will henceforth obey and respect the laws of the United States. We certainly can afford to grant him the common instinct of self preservation. How long it will take this loyalty to grow into patriotism is not easy to say. To judge from private conversations of the people, it would seem that the good time when there should be a union of heart and a union of hand is yet very far distant. In my opinion it is not so far off, however, as the Southern people themselves believe it to be. It is hard to place a proper estimate on the expressions of a people who are governed in all their acts by impulse, and that is preeminently the character of the Southern people. They cannot occupy a middle ground on any subject. As conquerors, they would be the most haughty people in the world, but as conquered, they are the most effectually subdued and pliant.

The Mississippi Legislature.—The Mississippi Legislature recently debated two hours and a half whether or not to raise the stars and stripes over their Capitol. The motion was vehemently opposed, but the majority seemed to remember that they were not yet completely reconstructed, and considered it a matter of prudence to postpone their prejudices and vote for the flag. They showed themselves more politic than the State militia, which refuse to organize under the Union flag.

LAWS OF OREGON.

Passed at the Second Special Session of the Legislative Assembly, held December, 1865.

AN ACT to amend section 5 of "Act creating offices and providing for the government of the Penitentiary," approved October 21, 1864.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That section 5 of an act entitled "An act creating offices and providing for the government of the penitentiary," approved October 21, 1864, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows, to wit: Section 5. The Superintendent shall make a report quarterly to the Secretary of State, containing a statement of all liabilities incurred by him as such officer, also the amount of labor performed by the prisoners, for whom, and the value thereof, the amount of money collected, and the persons from whom collected, which money shall be paid into the treasury of the State within fifteen days after the end of each fiscal quarter. He shall also, on the first Monday of September, 1866, and on the same day of every alternate year thereafter, make a report to the Governor, containing a full statement of the condition of the institution, and of its expenditures and liabilities and earnings.

Approved December 18, 1865.

AN ACT to improve the breed of Sheep.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That if any ram shall be found running at large out of the enclosure of its owner, between the first day of June and the first day of November, it shall be lawful for any householder to take up such ram, and if the owner thereof be known to him, it shall be the duty of the person taking up such ram to give notice forthwith to the owner, of the taking up of such ram by him, and if, thereupon, the owner require a restoration of such ram, he shall pay to the taker up thereof the sum of two dollars; but if he refuse to do so, such ram shall be forfeited to the person taking up the same. And if the owner upon restoration of such ram, shall thereafter, within the period aforesaid of the same year, voluntarily or knowingly permit such ram again to run at large, the same shall be forfeited to any person who shall, within the period aforesaid, take up the same.

Sec. 2. That if the owner of any ram so taken up, be not known to the person taking up the same, it shall be his duty forthwith to give notice, by advertisement posted up in three of the most public places in the election precinct in which he shall reside, of the taking up of such ram, describing therein the natural and artificial marks of, and stating the time of taking up of such ram. And if the owner appears and re-claims such ram within ten days from the taking up thereof, he shall pay the taker up, upon the restoration of such ram, the sum of three dollars for the taking up and advertising the same. And if the owner shall appear to re-claim such ram, after such ten days, and before the first day of November, he shall pay to the taker up, in addition to the said sum of three dollars, twenty five cents per week for the keeping of such ram; but if the owner shall not re-claim such ram within three months from the taking up thereof, the same shall be forfeited to such taker up; and if the owner, who shall have re-claimed any such ram, shall thereafter, and before the first day of November, voluntarily and knowingly permit such ram again to run at large, the same shall be forfeited to any person who shall take up the same.

Approved, December 18, 1865.

AN ACT to appropriate money for the payment of the present Legislative Assembly.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon: That there be appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, for the pay and mileage of the members and the pay of the clerks and officers of the Legislative Assembly.

Sec. 2. Inasmuch as there has been no provision made for the payment of that for which this appropriation is asked, therefore this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved, December 18, 1865.

AN ACT to amend "An act to prevent the spread of Contagious or Infectious Diseases among Domestic Animals," approved October 1[illegible], 1862.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

That sections 1 and 2 of said act are hereby repealed, and the following enacted in lieu thereof:

Section 1. That no person or company of persons shall bring or cause to be brought into this state sheep, horses, hogs, cattle or domestic animals of any description, knowing them to be affected by any contagious or infectious disease, under penalty of a fine of not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars for each diseased animal so brought or introduced; said fine to be collected by an action brought for that purpose, before any court having competent jurisdiction, in the county where such animal or animals were introduced, and to be paid into the county treasury of said county, for the use and benefit of common schools; and such action may be brought by any person injured by the introduction of such diseased animal or animals into the county where such animals are brought.

Sec. 2. Any person or company of persons now or hereafter having ownership of, or bailment or rent, or lease, or any interest in, or the care of any animal or animals affected by contagious or infectious diseases shall keep such animals within an enclosure, or in a district secure from the contact with other animals. THE STANDARD AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!
AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.
MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of [illegible] persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of their [illegible] Tables and [illegible] Cushions at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables manufactured by them should be used in all matches for the Championship, as the best and most reliable tables.

These Billiard tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequalled in general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted them by the United States Patent Office, and they have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government for one improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ in the construction of our tables a variety of machinery specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure accuracy and finish, and [illegible] uniformity hitherto unattainable in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with any reasonable dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player M. Berger has published the following opinion:

"New York, 2d August, 1863.

"On the eve of leaving the United States I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that, during my [illegible] of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is superior. That I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons I am happy to make this declaration.

"BERGER CLAUDIUS,
"Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "Billiard Cue," a journal published in the interest of Billiards and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiards news and everything of interest to Amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.

Public Sale of Land,
For Deficit Street Assessments.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that by virtue of warrants issued by order of the Common Council of the City of Portland and to me directed, commanding me to levy upon and sell according to law such of the pieces and parcels of land hereinafter described, to collect a deficit assessed upon said parcels of land as declared by Ordinance No. 20 for the improvement of Front street between Pine and Morrison streets in said city, and which deficit has not been paid and is now delinquent.

Now, in pursuance of said warrants I have levied upon and on the 11th day of January, A. D. 1866 I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the Court House door in the city of Portland, County of Multnomah and State of Oregon, to make the said deficit costs and expenses of sale, each of the following described parcels of land, situated in the city of Portland, county and State aforesaid, to-wit:—

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD, heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"
THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS,
Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,
GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. Well may this be termed a medicine to be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man. He stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom, or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

OF THE WHEREABOUTS of FERDINAND STRANG, a native of Germany. A little more than three months ago, he left Lewiston, Idaho Territory, stating that he was going on a few days tour to look at the neighboring country. Since that time he has not been heard of. He left a wife with several children at Lewiston. It is feared that he has met with an accident, or that he has been foully dealt with. Any person who can give information concerning him will confer a favor by addressing a letter to Mrs. Wilhelmina Strang, Lewiston, or to Louis Arnold, Portland, Oregon. de26d1m*
